Steve is a Vietnam veteran who served his country honorably. A couple of years ago, Steve's eyes started to fail him, and eventually ended in complete vision loss. He found it incredibly difficult to take proper care of his teeth and soon they began to decay. In addition to blindness, Steve found himself in need of dentures.

In January 2018, he received a brand new pair of custom-fit dentures through the help of a local United Way funded agency and a volunteer dentist. Finally, he could eat without pain, resulting in greatly improved health and spirits.
